Managing Director, AWL*

It is with great pleasure that AWL is able to announce the successful acquisition of the majority shareholding of CV Freight Limited. This global logistics specialist in the automotive industry has an exclusive client list including Volvo, Ford Motor Co., Aston Martin & Jaguar Land Rover.

“We complement each other perfectly both in terms of business activities and mindset,” says David Stevens, Managing Director, AWL. “Together, we will be even stronger. We will be able to capitalise on business synergies as well as providing a greater global reach to the benefit of both customers and employees.”

“We look forward to joining forces and welcoming our colleagues from CV Freight to the Advantage Worldwide group of companies,” he added.

Why join forces?

AWL is operating in an industry where scale is increasingly important. Joining forces delivers substantially greater client value. There will be many future opportunities for us as we continue to grow and develop our brand and industry specific capabilities across all areas of the AWL organisation.

About CV Freight

CV Freight Limited was formed in 2001 and operates from facilities at London Heathrow and Birmingham International Airports. It is a global logistics service provider offering complex supply chains to single movements, with a specialism in the automotive industry.
